

NEWS | By Demarcus Cousins | 01 March 2022 10:06am

Worlds collide as London meets Gotham City at 'The Batman' special screening

Talk about a perfect casting

SHARE

TWEET

Robert Pattinson and Zoë Kravitz on the red carpet before 'The Batman' special London premiere

The Batman co-stars Robert Pattinson and Zoë Kravitz exquisitely pay homage to their comic book characters at the London screening on Wednesday. The actors created a ton of buzz for their real-life portrayal of Bruce Wayne and Selina Kyle.

In the famous DC comics, Batman and Catwoman are not only crime fighting partners, but also lovers. So, when they are not saving Gotham City wearing their badass hero suits, they take on date nights and events wearing elegant garments, usually in yes you guessed it, black.

The stunning Zoë Kravitz took to the red carpet looking remarkably like her character in the film, Selina Kyle/Catwoman. From her short hair slicked to the side, to her dangling pearl earrings, and her chic custom Saint Laurent dress by Anthony Vaccarello, she did everything to embody Catwoman, and killed it.

The man of the hour, Robert Pattinson joined Kravitz on the red carpet doing his best Bruce Wayne/Batman impression. He arrived wearing an oversized gray blazer and pants combo over a black turtleneck. This may seem like a very ordinary outfit, but it is a staple of Bruce Wayne, and Pattinson executed the look tremendously.

Bruce Wayne (Batman) and Selina Kyle (Catwoman) wearing their usual black attire as seen in the DC comics

Yes, we understand that Marvel has taken the throne as the blueprint for comic book movies over the last couple of decades and left DC in the dust because of their box office success. With that said, Robert Pattinson's portrayal of Batman could revitalize the DC comics and bring them to prominence once again. If Pattinsons and Kravitz's red carpet looks are any indications of their ability to play their characters on screen, 'The Batman' viewers are in for a treat.

VICEmedia group

- ≡ Obongjayar: "No one's doing what I'm doing"
- ≡ jeen-yuhs shows us a bruised Kanye West
- ≡ The best albums of 2022 so far

Watch more from i-D